

Hickman Enters Not Guilty Plea; Claims Insanity

Admits Both Kidnaping
and Killing; Case Now Hinges Entirely on Question of Mentality.

JUDGE SETS TRIAL
FOR JANUARY 25

Decision of Jury Will Mean Either Asylum for Life or Death on Gallows.

Los Angeles, January 3.—(United News.)—William Edward Hickman, confessed kidnaper and slayer of Marian Parker, pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity when arraigned today in a courtroom crowded with peace officers armed with tear bombs, and curious spectators.

Superior Judge Carlos Hardy set January 25 as the date for Hick-man's trial on a double indictment charging kidnapping and murder.
Hickman, erstwhile "Fox," who terrorized southern California two weeks ago, made his plea in a voice scarcely audible in the crowded courtroom. He was prompted throughout by Jerome Walsh, youthful Kansas City attorney.

The words, "not guilty by reason of insanity," were mumbled by Hickman after each indictment was read.
By his plea Hickman admitted both charges and the sole issue of the case from this time on will concern the state of his mentality.

Faces Life Sentence.

If a jury finds him not guilty as he pleaded, he will be sentenced to life imprisonment in an institution for the criminally defective. In case the jury holds him sane he will be liable to the extreme penalty, death on the gallows at San Quentin.

The plea was expected since it was regarded as his only hope to escape paying with his life for the life of the Los Angeles school girl.

Walsh entered an affidavit asking for a delay of 35 days before the trial in order that he might make a trip to Los Angeles to investigate Hickman's childhood. Judge Hardy read the affidavit in private and then set the date for the trial.

Would Vindicate Boyhood.

In making his request for more than a month's imprisonment before the trial, Walsh said that it was his desire to vindicate American boyhood by proving that Hickman was of an abnormal nature. He presented evidence intended to bolster this claim in the affidavit put before Judge Hardy.

After perusing the affidavit, the court declared that the evidence was "very general" and that he saw no reason for the delay asked by Walsh.
The boy attorney, only a few years older than his client, blushed when Judge Hardy looked down from the bench with this remark.

The judge, after inspecting a 1927 calendar, named January 24 as the date of trial. He corrected his mistake almost immediately, however, and made it January 25, 1928, three weeks from tomorrow at 9:30 a. m.

Courtroom Filled Early.

Long before the hour of the arraignment, crowds began to pour into the hall of justice. Scores of deputy sheriffs and police were stationed about the building and had difficulty in keeping the throngs in order.

Adding to the excitement, news was spread that District Attorney Asa Keeves feared an attack upon Walsh.
The double possibility of demonstrations against "the Fox" and his boy-attorney.

LEAVES THURSDAY
FOR NICARAGUA

Paris, January 3.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Briand is understood to have cabled to Paul Claudel, French ambassador to the United States, asking further information as to certain points in recent American suggestions for a treaty "outlawing war."

M. Briand accepts Secretary Kellogg's text as a basis for renewal of the Franco-American arbitration treaty which expires next month, but he wants it made clear what situation would result from a refusal of the senate to ratify an arbitration award and also what would be the result of a resumption of the exclusive hearing of a resumption of the arbitration procedure.

TEXT OF PACT MADE PUBLIC BY KELLOGG.

Washington, D. C., January 3.—(AP)
The formal invitation to France to join the United States in proposing to all the principal powers of the world a multilateral treaty containing a declaration "renouncing war as an instrument of national policy" was made public today by Secretary of State Kellogg. It was forwarded to Paris December 28 as an elaboration of the original "draft pact of perpetual friendship between France and the United States."

On the same date, the state department transmitted a draft treaty to France on its expiration February 27.
The pact was made public although the general declaration against resort to war. A copy of this draft has been transmitted to the British and Japanese governments and will be transmitted to every other government with which the United States has a root arbitration pact. The text of the draft of the revised arbitration treaty was made public although the American proposals it contains are known in general terms.

French Envoy Visits Kellogg.

Ambassador Claudel called on Secretary Kellogg today to discuss the various peace treaty proposals. It was said at the embassy, however, that he was still undecided as to the attitude of the French foreign office on the suggestion from Washington that France and the United States lead the way in a world-wide movement to get all nations committed to the anti-war declaration.

The proposal, which is in the nature of a counter suggestion to the French foreign minister's original plan for a bilateral treaty against war between France and the United States is contained in a note from the state department to the French government.
The state department announcement enlarged the fact that the proposed revised Franco-American arbitration treaty already submitted for French consideration is entirely separate from the secretary's reply to the Briand proposal.

GIRL ASKS TERM

Baltimore, January 3.—(AP)—Margaret Johnson, 17, wants to become a "lady" and at her own request today Magistrate Cadden sent her to the reform school to aid in the accomplishment.

Miss Johnson told the court that her "boy" friend had been pleading with me to turn over a new leaf, and out of this drinking, but it seems that I just can't do it.

"I think if you send me to a reform school for six months I will be a lady when I come out, and then I'll suit my sweetheart."

And the judge obliged her.

Mr. A. F. Hallman and members of his family, of 42 Lombardy way, and a negro janitor who was sleeping in the basement of the home, narrowly escaped serious injury or death at 11 o'clock Tuesday night when a boiler connected with the heating plant exploded and almost wrecked the interior of the residence.

The janitor was covered up by the wreckage but when he was extricated he was found that he had not been injured.

So terrific was the explosion that a boiler in the basement was blown through the floor of the home and into the attic of the one-story frame structure. Practically all the contents of the house were damaged. Firemen were called but found that no fire had followed the explosion.

Mrs. Hallman and her family spent the remainder of the night at the home of Mrs. Albert S. Adams, 17 Six-

SHEFFIELD CALLED IN HEARST PROBE

Washington, January 3.—(United News.)—The search into the authenticity of Mexican documents published in Hearst newspapers will be pursued by the special senate committee at the resumption of public hearings.

Chief witnesses summoned are James R. Sheffield, former ambassador to Mexico, and Arthur Bliss Lane, now chief of the state department's Latin-American division, but first secretary of the American embassy at Mexico City at the time Miguel Avila procured for the Hearst interests the documents purporting to show that a Mexican fund of $1,215,000 had been provided for four United States senators.

Says Sheffield Got Papers. Hearst testified that the documents were submitted to Sheffield at the Mexican capital and there have been intimations before the committee that the American embassy, during Sheffield's administration, purchased other documents, represented as having come from the official Mexican files.

A new phase of the inquiry will be opened up with the examination of David E. Smiley, former managing editor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, and Robert Barry, at one time Washington correspondent for that newspaper. This has to do with reports that John Page, who instructed Avila to buy the documents for the Hearst papers, offered similar papers to the Public Ledger two years ago.

After an inquiry officials of the Public Ledger declined to publish them. Information given to members of the committee is that these documents were in the form of letters which it was claimed had been passed

Frigid Water Kills Thousands Of Florida Fish

Daytona Beach, Fla., January 3.—(United News.)—Unable to withstand the sudden drop in temperature of the water, resulting from the New Year cold wave, thousands of small fish have died in the Halifax river here.

Further inquiry into the transmission of messages between Mexican officials in this country and in Mexico City will be made through representatives of the Radio Corporation of America. Its officers have been directed to bring to Washington copies of any messages that may have passed between Arturo M. Elias, Mexican consul general at New York, and his government.

The committee also plans to obtain from the radio corporation, the Western Union Telegraph company, the Postal company and the All-American Cable company copies of any messages that may have been exchanged between Hearst representatives in the United States and Avila and Page at Mexico City and San Antonio, Texas.

In the absence of Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, the committee chairman, who is slightly ill in New York city, Senator Johnson, republican, California, will preside at the hearing tomorrow.

ST. PAUL DARKENED BY BLAST; 7 HURT

St. Paul, Minn., January 3.—(United News.)—One woman was seriously injured and a half dozen others slightly hurt when a huge steam turbine generator exploded late today in the Northern States Power company's main plant here.

With a blast that rocked nearby buildings, the 35,000-horsepower machine let go, sending clouds of steam and smoke far above the 200-foot chimneys of the plant, which stands alone on an island in the Mississippi river just above the high bridge. For about a half hour much of the city was without electric power and light.

Adolph Roelke, who was in the generator room when the explosion occurred, was taken to St. Luke's hospital, but the other injured were given first aid treatment, some going to their homes while others remained to help in fighting the fire that followed the blast.

Officials of the company had not estimated the damage tonight.

BABY PERISHES IN FIRE, SEVEN OTHERS BURNED

El Dorado, Ark., January 3.—(United News.)—Florence Williams, nine, was burned to death and seven other members of her family were burned seriously when the home of Tarleton Williams, farmer living in the south of here, was destroyed by fire.

An open gas flame is believed responsible for the fire, which was discovered by a father, Tarleton Williams. He rushed from the house with one of the twins and his wife rescued the other. They returned and rescued Austin, 20, and Houston, 6. Florence was dragged through a window by her father as the roof fell in. She lived three hours. Davis was burned in making his escape.

CHILDREN SWEEP AWAY ON FLOE OF ICE RESCUED

Wilhelmshaven, Germany, January 3.—(United News.)—Seven children adrift on an ice floe were rescued tonight by a naval vessel after being lost for four hours.

The children were playing on the ice off shore when the tide came in breaking off the crust upon which they stood. Their screams brought a rescue party, which, however, arrived just in time to see them vanish into the night. For a time there was little hope of saving them.

DR. DAVISON HEADS GRADY WHITE UNIT

Fate of sick Atlantans Tuesday night was placed officially in the hands of the 1928 medical staff of the white unit of Grady hospital when 90 members met and elected Dr. T. C. Davison, chief of the surgeon's staff, to the presidency.

Dr. C. C. Aven, one of the four chiefs of the medical staff, was named vice president, and Dr. McIntosh M. Burns, an associate in medicine, secretary and treasurer.

The doctors serve without compensation, contributing their services free to Atlanta's unfortunate, and emergency cases.

Dr. Marion Benson will act as chairman of the 1928 executive committee. Members of the 1928 staff of the white unit were selected last Thursday night to serve the institution until midnight June 30, 1929. They began their term of service at midnight, December 31, 1927.

Mayor L. N. Ragsdale Monday night retired every member of the old committee and substituted a new body, but under a ruling of City Attorney James L. Mayson, Grady officials named Thursday night will continue to serve until expiration of their term.

DRAFT PRISONERS TO "MUSH" FOODS TO FOUR FAMILIES

Spokane, Wash., January 3.—(United News.)—Prisoners of the county jail here have been drafted to mush through snow drifts today for four families who are marooned in the Liberty lake district, completely isolated since last Saturday.

The strongest inmates of the jail were selected for the work. They were accompanied by guards and their trail was broken by tractors and snow plows.

EXCEPTIONS FILED TO COURT RULING ON WATER "STEAL"

Washington, January 3.—(United News.)—The Great Lakes states formally presented to the supreme court today their exceptions to the findings and recommendations of Charles Evans Hughes as special master, in sustaining the validity of the permit of the secretary of war under which water is being diverted from Lake Michigan at Chicago.

Counsel for the Chicago sanitary district asked for a speedy decision, arguing that the case be finally decided by the court at this term.

PACKERS' TRUST CASE UP BEFORE U. S. COURT AGAIN

Washington, January 3.—(United News.)—The famous packers' consent decree divorcing them from business not related to the meat-packing industry was before the supreme court today for the second time. Charles Evans Hughes appeared again for the Swift and Armour groups, which seek to have the decree set aside.

Attacking the decree as invalid, Mr. Hughes asserted that the packers had been guilty of no violation of any anti-trust law and that the courts had no jurisdiction to enter such a decree until it had been found that there was an actual violation of the law.

Washington, January 3.—(United News.)—Condemnation proceedings against one of the nation's most famous buildings were begun today in the district supreme court here.

In order to provide a site for the new United States supreme court building, the government has decided to demolish the "old brick capitol," now the headquarters of the National Woman's party. More than a century ago the ancient brick building was the seat of the national government and after the capitol building had been destroyed in the war of 1812.

Denver, Colo., January 3.—(United News.)—Despite the presence of state police with orders to stop picketing, striking coal miners have threatened another demonstration at the Coal Creek mine, in Fremont county, Wednesday.

James Moreno, in charge of the strike in the district, notified Sheriff Henry Koerner that pickets will appear at the Coal Creek mine and any others which attempt to operate. L. R. Scherf, head of the state police, answered the notification by sending five state police officers into the county tonight. These officers will cooperate with Sheriff Koerner to stop picketing.

EDWARDS RAPS PLAN FOR NEW CABINET OFFICER

New York, January 3.—(United News.)—In the ambiguity of an alienist's report on the sanity of Henry J. Gray, counsel for Mrs. Ruth Snyder tonight found new hope for saving the corset salesman's mistress from execution.

Charges that the four psychiatrists who examined Gray did not stumble accidentally on the obscure wording "not insane" were contained in a letter to Governor Alfred E. Smith by Edgar F. Hazleton, Mrs. Snyder's lawyer. He asked for a 30-day stay of execution on the ground that this report represented a "compromise between their professional consciences."

WOMAN FLEES FIRE, PERILED BY WATER

New York, January 3.—(United News.)—A woman from Hollywood visiting in New York experienced an adventure today more thrilling than the cinema sensations of any movie queen.

Mrs. Eva J. Newhardt, of Hollywood, was one of about 100 guests in the Carol Lodge, a hotel in 324 street just off Fifth avenue, when fire broke out.

While firemen were carrying other guests down ladders Mrs. Newhardt made her way, scantily clad, in the freezing weather, down a fire escape.

While still one story above the ground she was cut off from escape by fire and as she clung to her perch firemen who could not see her for the enveloping smoke turned a stream of water upon her.

Almost torn from the fire escape by the force of the water, Mrs. Newhardt finally attracted attention by her screams and was saved. She was taken to a hospital suffering from burns and exposure. One other woman, Mrs. Minnie Silverstein, was injured when she jumped from a third story window to an extension, J. B. Burnham, of Toledo, Ohio, was trapped in his fourth floor room but waited calmly until firemen made their way to him.

RUTH'S LAWYER BASES DELAY PLEA ON SANITY

New York, January 3.—(United News.)—In the ambiguity of an alienist's report on the sanity of Henry J. Gray, counsel for Mrs. Ruth Snyder tonight found new hope for saving the corset salesman's mistress from execution.

Charges that the four psychiatrists who examined Gray did not stumble accidentally on the obscure wording "not insane" were contained in a letter to Governor Alfred E. Smith by Edgar F. Hazleton, Mrs. Snyder's lawyer. He asked for a 30-day stay of execution on the ground that this report represented a "compromise between their professional consciences."

Mrs. Snyder, with Gray, is sentenced to be executed January 12 for the murder of her husband, Albert, in their Queens Village home. If Governor Smith grants the requested stay of sentence in the case of Mrs. Snyder, it is deemed likely that he will take the same step in the case of her paramour.

This is the first conference between representatives of the three faiths to be held at the Iowa school of religion, an unique institution with a faculty headed by a Jew, a Catholic and a Protestant.

FREAR ACTS TO DELAY CUT ON FEDERAL TAX

Washington, January 3.—(United News.)—The senate was urged today by Representative Frear, republican, Wisconsin, to amend the new tax bill that the proposed two per cent reduction in the levy on corporation incomes would not go into effect until 1929.

As passed by the house the bill provides that the reduction in the tax from 13 1/2 to 11 1/2 per cent shall apply to incomes earned in 1927, on which taxes are paid during the current year. In a letter sent to all senators, Frear, who is considered one of the authorities in the house on tax questions, said that postponement of the reduction for one year would save the treasury $160,000,000 or more.

In his opinion no "possible justification" is offered for this enormous gift to corporations which, he continued, already have passed the tax on 1927 incomes on to the consuming public.

FATHER MARRIES HIS DAUGHTERS' MOTHER-IN-LAW

Alliance, Neb., January 3.—(United News.)—Another of those thought-twisting family relationships that vaudeville performers have a penchant for narrating, was effected by the marriage here of Charles W. Sisley, 70, and Sarah E. Colerick, 59.

Within the last few years, four daughters of Sisley were married to four sons of Mrs. Colerick. By the marriage of their respective parents, the children of the four Colericks are now nephews and nieces of their own mother and father, and their grandparents are likewise their grandmothers and grandfathers.

TWO GIRLS FIGHT DUEL FOR LOVE OF 'SUITOR'

Pilisvocevar, Hungary, January 3.—(United News.)—Two girls fought a pen-knife duel in one of the most prominent streets of this town for the love of a man.

Luise Fazekas, the challenger, had a boy friend who proved to be unfaithful. Luise discovered the identity of her rival, waited in the street for her, and called her some nasty names. When the rival refused to promise never again to see the boy friend, Luise opened her hand bag, took out two pen-knives, handed one to the other girl and told her to defend herself.

Both girls were badly disfigured when the duelists arrived and turned them over to the surgeons.

5 ESCAPE DEATH AS TAXI PLUNGES OVER HIGH CLIFF

Minneapolis, Minn., January 3.—(United News.)—Five persons in a taxicab escaped death when the machine plunged 75 feet over a cliff at the Mississippi river and the belt line bridge here today. The cab turned over several times in falling.

"There is Mileage in Beans"

This is the opinion expressed by one of our friends—the type of man who scratches matches on his neck—in describing beans as a food. He amplifies this by saying: "You can go 'further' and last longer on beans than anything else."

Crudely expressed but deep in its meaning, as beans come nearest to being a complete food of any vegetable or any animal product except, perhaps, milk. This is attested by every experience of mankind since the eating of "Pulse" in Biblical times down to the findings of the most expert dietitians and culinary experts of modern times.

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY

—A CITIZEN WHEREVER WE SERVE—

REMUS LOSES TILT FOR NEW HEARING

Cincinnati, Ohio, January 3.—(AP)—George Remus was saved from the Lima insane asylum today only by the prolongation of a writ of habeas corpus hearing until next Tuesday.

Holding that a matter of grave public policy was involved, Judge Charles S. Bell, of common pleas court, said he would need another 48 hours before handing down his decision on the application for the writ in addition to many citations of precedent given him by Charles H. Euston, counsel for Remus, and Charles P. Taft, II, county prosecutor. Judge Bell said that he would be welcomed tomorrow morning.

Denied New Hearing, Bail.

Remus lost his hope of a new hearing and release on bond when Judge William H. Lueders, of the probate court, who last week adjudged Remus insane and dangerous to be at large, denied a petition by Euston. Judge Lueders also refused a further stay of execution of the order committing Remus to Lima.

Euston immediately made the denial of his petition the basis for carrying the probate court decision into the court of common pleas on error proceedings.

No matter which way the decision of Judge Bell should go, both sides indicated a further long legal battle was in sight before actual incarceration of the former "king of bootleggers" in the Lima institution.

The case went before Judge Lueders with a sanity hearing rendered mandatory by the acquittal of Remus after a five weeks murder trial on the sole ground of insanity. Remus shot and killed his estranged wife, Imogene, here last October 6.

Turner, Mrs. Preston Arkwright, Jr., Miss Jeannette Bailey, Mrs. Floyd McTear, Mrs. Humphrey Wagar, Mrs. E. A. Peoples, Mrs. Allison Jones, Jr., and Mrs. A. J. Orme, Jr. The charter will give the league permission to raise money for charitable purposes, solicit and receive donations, operate tea rooms, book shops and bazaars, and buy and sell real estate. The organization will have no capital stock.

Pastor Denies Her Cigarettes Caused 'Ban'

Aboard S. S. Aquitania, January 3.—(AP)—Miss Maud Royden, the British preacher, denied today that her lecture engagement with the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church in Chicago, had been cancelled because she smokes cigarettes.

Miss Royden smokes a little, she said, but so do all Englishwomen. Smoking, she added, has no more religious importance than chewing gum. The woman minister is aboard the Aquitania en route to New York.

BISHOP SAYS WOMAN FAVORS COMPANIONATE MARRIAGE.

Boston, January 3.—(AP)—Bishop Charles L. Slattery, of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts today made public a letter from the Archbishop of Canterbury quoting Miss Agnes Maude Clouston, English woman preacher, whose lecture engagements in Boston and Chicago have been cancelled, as "opposed to companionate marriage and to all other proposals of the kind."

Miss Royden was scheduled to speak before branches of the Woman's Home Missionary society, of the Methodist Episcopal church, in Chicago and this city but the lectures were cancelled. The action of Chicago was attributed to Miss Royden's use of cigarettes and that in Boston to her reported advocacy of companionate marriage.

HICKMAN ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

ish attorney served to stir the curiosity of the public, who threatened against his life were the work of cranks, but Hickman would take no chances and detailed a guard to accompany him. His hair brushed smoothly back and looking more like a high school boy than a thug and cold-blooded killer, Hickman was brought from his cell to the courtroom shortly before 2 p. m. Photographers had been barred from the courtroom and Hickman posed in the corridors. As each flashbulb exploded, the confessed slayer of the 12-year-old schoolgirl grinned foolishly.

Grand Jury Fails to Act.

The county grand jury which was to have been asked to indict Hickman and his 16-year-old bandit pal, Wally Hunt, for the murder of Ivy Thonight, which exploded, adjourned at noon without considering the case. Hunt and Hickman, who engaged in a series of holdups in the south-west before Hickman sought to execute the "perfect crime," have confessed to participating in the shooting of Thonight a year ago. The quest of which youth fired the shot that killed the druggist has not been settled, but each is equally responsible, since the slaying occurred during commission of a felony.

S-4 DIVERS HALTED BY CHILLY WATERS

Provincetown, Mass., January 3.—(AP)—The piercing chill of the water forbade resumption today of salvage operations on the sunken submarine S-4, although the sea was smooth. Tests made with a "dummy diver" convinced officers in charge of the work that the underwater temperature was too low to permit of divers descending. The salvage fleet, which had sought shelter in Provincetown harbor from the gales of the week-end, again took up position over the spot where the S-4 went down on December 17 in collision with the coast guard destroyer Paulding, but the only activity possible was periodic testing of the water.

Cold Endangers Divers.

The danger of the low temperature in the ocean floor lies in the danger of the air line valves freezing on the helmet. To determine the probability of this the dummy diver is used.

An empty diving suit, properly weighted, was sent to the bottom for about an hour today. Air was pumped through the air line, and bubbles came to the surface indicating that the valve was working at least partly. Officers in charge, however, were not entirely satisfied with the result of the experiment.

Captain Henry Hartley of the mine sweeper Halsey, base of diving operations, today said he had recommended navy crosses for Divers William Carr and Fred G. Michaels.

CONGRESSMAN TEARS UP SPEECH AFTER TRIP

Boston, January 3.—(AP)—Thirty-six hours in a submarine made Representative Fiorello H. La Guardia, of New York, tear up a speech he had written for delivery on the floor of congress, he told newspapermen today when he arrived at the navy yard on the submarine S-8, sister ship of the S-4, which was raised and sunk by the coast guard destroyer Paulding off Provincetown on December 17.

"I have often criticized the navy, especially for its aviation policies," he said, "but my experiences on the S-4 convinced me that the navy has done everything possible in the S-4 disaster. I realize now that only by pontoons can the submarine be raised. After inspecting the scene of the disaster, I can now believe that derelicts and such equipment would have been useless in the attempt to raise the S-4 while the six men of her crew were alive in the torpedo compartment."

"Only a miracle could have saved any of the S-4's crew and no miracle happened. There has been much criticism about the equipment the salvage fleet used in its attempt to raise the submarine but I know it has been deserved."

NAVY INVESTIGATION STARTS TODAY

Boston, January 3.—(AP)—The naval investigation into the sinking of the submarine S-4 by the coast guard destroyer Paulding off Provincetown on December 17 with the loss of 40 lives will start here tomorrow. A naval court of inquiry will convene at the Charlestown navy yard at 10 a. m.

Rear Admiral Richard H. Jackson will preside and will be assisted by Rear Admiral Julian L. Latimer and Captain Joseph V. Ogan, Commander Leslie E. Bratton will serve as judge advocate.

WILBUR ORDERS DRIVE TO CRUSH REBELS

from Rear Admiral Sellers, commander of the special service squadron, that "Sandino's forces are even better equipped and organized than there had been reason to think."

Sellers also advised the department that 150 marines had been sent to the rugged mountain peaks of the Cordillera. The patrol sustained casualties of one dead and five wounded when attacked by Sandino's forces. They asked that the naval and aerial supplies be dropped from airplanes. Two days previously five marines were killed and 23 wounded by Sandino's troops.

The admiral will leave the canal zone Wednesday on his flagship, the Rochester with a marine detachment from the Galveston, he reported to the navy department. The Tulsa sailed today for Corinto on the Nicaraguan west coast with a force of 16 marines.

Sellers advised that marines in the quiet sectors are being replaced by Nicaraguan National guards so that the marines will be available to argument forces moving against Sandino.

The marine commander at Managua has asked for 250 reinforcements. Secretary of the Navy Wilbur stated that the marine reinforcements would leave this country "as soon as possible."

One battalion will be sent from Parris Island, S. C., and Quantico, Va., while the other will be made up at the marine corps base at San Diego, Cal.

AIRMAN FAIL TO FIND REBEL TROOPS

Managua, Nicaragua, January 3.—(AP)—Airplanes returning this afternoon from the region of Quilali were unable to find any sign of rebel troops. It is believed that they have gone to El Chipote, 18 miles away, to concentrate against the American marines who captured their base.

The original capture of the city, reinforced by a combat patrol, are holding Quilali with an additional column of reinforcements on the way and the promise of 1,000 more airplanes from the United States to assist in controlling the situation throughout the country.

The capture of Quilali by the marines last Friday was a severe blow to the repudiated liberal General Augustina Sandino, who has used the

Rebel Chief Assumes Role Of 'Patriot' To Lead Bandits

(Copyright, 1928, by United News.)

Washington, January 3.—The capital has diversified opinions on Augustino C. Sandino, the 35-year-old bandit or patriot—depending upon your point of view—who is causing the United States marines so much trouble in northern Nicaragua at the present time.

The state department regards him as an ignorant person who has turned bandit. The marine corps considers him an outlaw and a desperate fighter. Those here who favor Sandino's cause regard him as an educated gentleman, fighting for the rights of his country. Considering all opinions from their various angles, the most authentic and composite picture of the Nicaraguan leader shows him as short of stature, swarthy, clean shaven but with a face poorly marked.

Of his personal courage there is no question. Nearly 20 of his 35 years have been spent in military training, most of the time in Mexico.

A letter written by Sandino to Charles Butters, American mining magnate, who was driven from Nicaragua by the rebel leader, is now in the hands of Butters' lawyer in this city.

"I am heading a group of heroic mountaineer soldiers," the rebel leader wrote. "We are here to defend our country against invaders no matter who they are, how many there are, or what the final result may be."

"If necessary we will fight them hand-to-hand to the end. The American marines by their invasion have made light the dignity of a sister republic and fools of some of my countrymen."

Spokesmen for the state department declare that Sandino is a bandit and will continue to be regarded as a bandit regardless of whether he has 100 or 1,000 followers.

From other than official sources have trickled in information as to Sandino's break with General Moncado. "Surrender and disarm, or we will disarm you by force," the American marines told Moncado.

The Nicaraguan commander-in-chief reported back to his troops and advised them to surrender. Without hesitating Sandino turned his back and started into the jungle land. More than 100 of Moncado's soldiers followed.

From this small band, Sandino built up a respectable fighting force of well-armed, well-informed and well-trained men. The Mexican general, Echevarria, of Vera Cruz, is reported as directing the training of the rebel troops.

day into and out of Atlanta, asked that it be kept on central time if the change is allowed.

ICY WAVE LEAVES 75 DEAD IN WEST

railroad wrecks, due to the storm, injured at least 100 persons in this vicinity.

Although there were fewer deaths, suffering was most severe in the far south, where the cold wave arrived unexpectedly and the population was not equipped to cope with it.

Charitable organizations busy.

Charitable organizations were strained to meet the emergency. The cold wave arrived at a time when unemployment was more acute than at any time in several years.

There was little suffering in northern rural communities. Automobile companies, however, reported that probably will not be entirely open for a week, but railroads have resumed service on the usual basis and no cases of isolation or shortage of food or fuel were reported.

The lowest temperature in this immediate section Wednesday will be below zero, it was predicted. There will be few sections of record-breaking below-zero cold tomorrow.

By Wednesday night the temperature was expected to reach 20 degrees above zero and remain in that vicinity.

MIAMI SHIVERS IN NEW COLD WAVE

Miami, Fla., January 3.—(AP)—Lacking, in the majority of cases, any facilities whatever for heating, Miami today shivered and huddled in vain for something to do about it in the second sunless day in 15 months. Crops throughout the state were damaged by the cold.

THREE MORE OHIOANS DIE IN COLD

Cleveland, Ohio, January 3.—(AP)—With zero weather holding Ohio in its icy grip, three more deaths from the cold were reported within the state today, raising the total to six since New Year's eve.

THREE FOUND DYING ON RIVER BARGE

Mobile, January 3.—(AP)—Three men half frozen by the icy wind that were sweeping over the Gulf out of the north and chilled by the stinging spray as it blew over the deck, were discovered aboard the abandoned lumber laden barge Matanzas by the coast guard cutter Sauk. The cutter is now towing the barge to Key West according to information at local coast guard headquarters.

COOK LOSES FIGHT TO ESCAPE CELL

Washington, January 3.—(AP)—The supreme court ruled today that persons convicted of violating federal laws can be placed on probation only before they have actually begun to serve their sentences.

Once the prison doors have closed behind them, the court declared the federal courts before which they were convicted are powerless to shorten or suspend their sentences and relief can come only from the president or the parole board, acting under the attorney general.

After he had served about two years in prison for probation, the trial court in Texas before which he was convicted granted it but this decision was set aside by the circuit court of appeals which ruled that the district court had lost control.

LOW TEMPERATURES TO CONTINUE TODAY

at the local weather bureau, records of which extend back over a period of 50 years. Nine degrees was the lowest reported Tuesday.

The extreme cold has hampered operations of innumerable automobiles. Many an Atlanta has reported late to work, bringing as an excuse the refusal of his automobile to function in the unaccustomed cold.

Coal Trucks Busy.

All day Tuesday coal trucks were rumbling through downtown streets, about the business of distributing fortifications against King Winter's aggressive invasion of Atlanta homes. Plumbers have been busy repairing ravages wrought by sub-freezing weather on residential, and even commercial, water systems.

Not frequently the automobiles which brave frigid winds carry a plume of steam at radiator cap, and belch blue smoke from exhausts, indicative of carburetors out of adjustment to new mercury levels.

Drug stores and filling stations report a heavy demand for denatured alcohol, thousands of gallons having been dispensed throughout the city over the week-end.

Sub-freezing weather that has held the south in its grip for three days, bringing at least ten deaths directly or indirectly, and reports of some damage to Florida's growing crops, showed no signs of abatement Tuesday night but a measure of relief was in sight.

Forecasters said that temperatures which today ranged from around zero in Kentucky to well below freezing in sections of Florida, accompanied by snow as far as Mississippi, probably would begin to rise slowly tomorrow. Moderating winds also were predicted.

The death in Alabama from ex-posure and burns of five persons Monday night and Tuesday was reported.

Florida, the last Dixie state to capitulate, felt the full force of the cold wave Monday night and early Tuesday. Except in the extreme southern portion, near and below freezing weather was general, resulting in considerable damage to tender truck crops. Injury to fruit was believed not to have been quite so extensive, but in some parts of the citrus belt oranges were reported to have frozen on trees.

Florida Reports.

The Florida marketing bureau said it would be several days before the citrus damage could be estimated, but the loss to truck growers was believed to be heavy.

St. Petersburg experienced the lowest reading in 11 years at 20 degrees, while its neighbor, Tampa, reported 26. Over on the east coast, however,

Miami escaped the worst of the cold with a minimum of 42, but farther north Jacksonville registered 20 and Pensacola 18. Key West, on the southernmost tip of the peninsula, recorded 52.

Louisville was believed to have won the doubtful honor of being the coldest city in the south with a minimum of two below zero. Other readings included Memphis, 4 above; Asheville, 6; Birmingham, 8, and Atlanta, 1.

Snow fell in most states, the fall ranging from heavy in the Blue Ridge mountains of North Carolina and South Carolina foothills to light flurries in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. At Memphis and vicinity, ice skates were hauled out for the first time in years for trouts on frozen lakes and streams.

Continued cold and mostly fair was the forecast for Tuesday night generally, with slowly rising temperatures today.

Great Weather for Overcoats

One thing about this balmy Atlanta climate . . . it often upsets the predictions even of our efficient weather observer, and sends people scurrying for cover.

If ever one needed a nice warm overcoat, it is now. And most likely from now until late March it will be in constant use.

It might surprise you to know how good a coat one can buy here . . . at very moderate prices. Big assortments.

MIAMI SHIVERS IN NEW COLD WAVE.

Miami, Fla., January 3.—(AP)—Lacking, in the majority of cases, any facilities whatever for heating, Miami today shivered and huddled in vain for something to do about it in the second sunless day in 15 months. Crops throughout the state were damaged by the cold.

THREE MORE OHIOANS DIE IN COLD.

Cleveland, Ohio, January 3.—(AP)—With zero weather holding Ohio in its icy grip, three more deaths from the cold were reported within the state today, raising the total to six since New Year's eve.

COLD BLAMED FOR FIVE DEATHS IN ALABAMA

Birmingham, Ala., January 3.—(AP)—Five persons were dead today as an indirect result of the cold wave in Alabama.

THREE FOUND DYING ON RIVER BARGE

Mobile, January 3.—(AP)—Three men half frozen by the icy wind that were sweeping over the Gulf out of the north and chilled by the stinging spray as it blew over the deck, were discovered aboard the abandoned lumber laden barge Matanzas by the coast guard cutter Sauk. The cutter is now towing the barge to Key West according to information at local coast guard headquarters.

Spain Seeks Funds.

Madrid, January 3.—(United News.)—The Spanish government, through its ambassador in Berlin, has begun negotiations with the German government for the payment of claims for damages to Spain arising out of the war.

Blind Man Dies in Fire.

New Orleans, January 3.—(AP)—Blind, deaf and a paralytic, Martin Yochim, 83, was burned to death in bed near Kenner, La., tonight when the dwelling of his son-in-law was destroyed by fire.

Poison Kills Fireman.

Memphis, Tenn., January 3.—(AP)—Owen Patton, 54, lieutenant of the Memphis fire department, is dead, and five members of his household are seriously ill of ptomaine poisoning, suffered after eating a home-cooked breakfast.

Herrick Is Honored.

Cleveland, Ohio, January 3.—(AP)—Myron T. Herrick, United States ambassador to France, today was awarded the Cleveland 1927 gold medal for public service.

Recreation, etc.	21.3 cents

If your expenditures are above the average you can "pare down" these items a little and put the difference in a savings account at The Citizens and Southern National Bank. Later on, interest from these savings will take care of all the expenses that the average man pays for with his dollar.

NEW YORK AWAITS SMITH'S MESSAGE

Albany, N. Y., January 3.—(United News.)—New York and national politicians of both major parties are awaiting with interest the forthcoming voluminous message of Governor Alfred E. Smith to the legislature.

Containing 35,000 words, the annual message may branch many of Smith's ideas to be stressed in his campaign for the democratic presidential nomination. In this event, friends and enemies of the governor will know in advance just what pre-convention tactics to follow.

For the first time since 1923, Smith will not read the message in person. He read his own document five years ago as an innovation and had followed the plan every succeeding year. His excuse this time is his voice, which he wants to save for the campaign.

Previous messages ran from 7,000 to 10,000 words in length, and because of the great increase in the 1928 message, an abstract of the contents Smith wants stressed will be given legislators before they convene. That will save a clerk four or five hours in delivering the paper verbatim on the opening day.

SCHOOL BOARD TO HOLD MEETING ON THURSDAY

George Powell, president of the Atlanta board of education, Tuesday night issued a call for a special session of the board at 8 o'clock Thursday afternoon for the purpose of making up the 1928 school budget.

The meeting will be held at the city council chamber, and Mayor I. N. Rogstad has been invited to attend. Under a new amendment to the charter, the school board must prepare and submit to the mayor before January 30 a proposed budget for operation and maintenance of the school system for the year. The mayor has the right to veto or approve it. In the event he should veto it, members of the board may pass it by a two-thirds majority vote. If the required majority to pass it over his veto is lacking and no agreement can be reached before January 30, the president of the board of education, the mayor and the city controller form a committee to administer the school's finances.

Alderman J. Allen Couch, of the fifth ward, who, Monday night, was appointed chairman of the 1928 school committee of city council, will take his seat as a regular member of the board for the first time under another charter amendment.

A tentative draft for the budget, calling for expenditure of $3,134,568.17 for 1928, was explained to members of the Atlanta Parent-Teacher association at Walker street school by administration officials. The fund calls for allocation of approximately 30 per cent of the city's estimated gross revenue for 1928.

Members of the Atlanta Parent-Teacher association have adopted resolutions asking the mayor and general council to allocate sufficient funds to maintain an adequate educational program.

FULTON MEDICAL SOCIETY TO MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

Members of the Fulton County Medical society will hold their twenty-third anniversary meeting and dinner Thursday night at the Piedmont Driving club. Dr. E. C. Davis, newly elected president, will make his inaugural address, while Dr. C. E. Waits, vice president, and Dr. W. H. Hays, secretary and treasurer, will be installed in office.

Another high light of the night's program will be an address by Governor L. G. Hardman, a member of the medical profession of the state.

Dr. E. B. Block will award prizes given each year for the best paper and for the most outstanding research work.

Certificates to those who have just completed 25 years of membership in the order will be presented to Dr. W. T. Rivington, Dr. T. J. Collier, Dr. G. P. Hurdley, Dr. J. R. Garner, Dr. R. B. Ridley, Dr. Annie Laurie Sawyer, Dr. W. A. Selman and Dr. F. M. Jones here.

Salvation Army Seeks Clothing To Assist Poor

Generous contributions of winter clothing and blankets to the Salvation Army Tuesday continued inadequate to meet the rapidly growing applications for warm garments resulting from the present frigid wave, it was stated Tuesday night by Captain W. H. Range, officer in charge. Phone calls to Ivy 2224 will be answered.

The last six men asked for clothing Tuesday were told to come back today. One of them said that his three children were clad only in light summer garments and covered by newspapers and two ragged blankets, were waiting in an unheated house for his return.

Captain Range said they offered to do any kind of work, even chopping wood or scrubbing floors, to obtain warm clothing needed either by themselves or their families.

Captain Range announced Tuesday that "broken toy week," which had opened with splendid response Monday, had been postponed pending the return of warm weather in order that offers of toys for poor children might not keep the telephone at Ivy 2224 busy should people with warm clothing to give call during the week.

MACON CLEARINGS SHOW BIG GAIN

Macon, Ga., January 3.—(AP)—Macon's bank clearings for the year just closed were reported by the Macon Clearing House association last week as increasing $11,191,425.02, or approximately 15 per cent—over the total for 1926.

Total clearings for 1927 were announced to be $112,608,214.96; for 1926 the figure was $98,414,780.94. In every month of 1927 but two, it was stated, there was an increase over clearings for the corresponding period of the year before.

APARTMENT HOUSE OFFICIALS NAMED; MILLER PRESIDENT

Norman I. Miller, popular Atlanta attorney, was elected president of the Atlanta Apartment House Owners' association at the annual meeting Tuesday at the Ansley hotel.

Other officers are: Samuel A. Massell, vice president; William Wilson, secretary; and O'Bryan Watson, treasurer. Members of the executive committee elected for a two-year term are: E. M. Durant, W. L. Hancock, Joseph McCord and John H. Pappas. Other members who have another year of their term of office to serve are: W. H. Wynne, D. A. Farrell and W. A. Ward.

Immediately after his election Mr. Miller appointed the following members to serve on the committee of appeals: C. A. Mathews, Mrs. E. L. Wentworth, H. H. Hallman, D. Goldin, L. C. Durham, A. C. Miller, R. P. Black, A. C. Tappan and John H. Toulson.

The annual report showed that the membership of the association has doubled during the past year and much constructive work has been accomplished.

AUTO CRASHES GATE, PLUNGES INTO MISSISSIPPI

New Orleans, January 3.—(AP)—The question of whether an automobile that plunged into the Mississippi river after crashing through the gates of a Napoleon avenue ferry, was occupied, or was an attempt to collect insurance was being debated tonight by New Orleans police.

The automobile, a light coupe, first was noticed by Charles Sutton, ticket taker at the ferry, and Bob Richardson, water-front night watchman, both of whom said the machine never slackened its speed of approximately 35 miles an hour. They both expressed the opinion the car was occupied by at least one person.

Sutton, membership of the association includes some 400 prominent doctors here.

WIFE GETS NOTE FROM PRISONER HELD BY BANDITS

Mexico City, January 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Lyman F. Barber, wife of an American mining man held by bandits ever since he was kidnapped for ransom on December 17, has received a letter from her husband written December 30 in the mountains near the town of Tenancingo, in the state of Mexico.

The letter, which was received in Mexico City, said that Barber did not think his life was in danger. He said that he was in good condition except that he was wearing out because he was forced to tramp through the mountains so much.

The bandits were moving from place to place to elude pursuing federal troops.

RAID IN CANTON BAGS MUNITIONS AND COMMUNISTS

Canton, China, January 3.—(AP)—In the course of a house-to-house search by the authorities fourteen communists were captured here today and 800 rifles and revolvers and 275 bombs confiscated.

Twelve of the diver gunboats stationed here have been cleared for the moderate nationalists, while four of the larger vessels were still independent. Fighting between the Kwang Tung and Kwangsi forces, which have been struggling for the possession of Canton, has been resumed at Shektan, 50 miles east of Canton. About 900 wounded have arrived in Canton from Shektan.

WOMEN VOTERS START CAMPAIGN OVER THE RADIO

Washington, January 3.—(United News.)—A campaign of public education by radio was begun tonight by the National League of Women Voters in cooperation with the National Broadcasting company.

The first of a series of weekly non-partisan talks on topics of current interest was delivered from WRC, Washington, by Representative Theodore E. Burton, Ohio, republican. Addresses by political leaders and authorities on important issues of the day are planned, said Miss Belle Sherwin, president of the league, in presenting the prospectus of "the voters' campaign information service."

JURY FINDS WIDOW DIED FROM COLD

Los Angeles, January 3.—(AP)—Exposure suffered after she had been thrown into a ditch along the roadway "by an unknown person" caused the death of Mrs. Amelia Appleby, "sack murder" victim, a coroner's jury decided today.

Trussed in a sack, the body of the wealthy widow was found December 6, near San Fernando, 2 miles northwest of here. Death had resulted from exposure of the lungs, due to exposure, said the verdict of the coroner's jury.

An undertaker testified she suffered a broken nose and bruises about the chest and body.

Doctor Refuses to Testify.
Dr. Charles M. McMillan, 57-year-old physician, held as the woman's suspected slayer, refused to testify on advice of counsel. Authorities are investigating his activities in managing Mrs. Appleby's business affairs.

The autopsy report of Dr. Frank Webb, which was read at the inquest, together with Noble's statement, established the fact, according to district attorney's officers that Mrs. Appleby was not dead when her canvas encased body was tossed from an automobile.

Charles G. Whittier, who lives directly across the street from the Appleby home, testified he last saw Mrs. Appleby December 22 or 23 and that she then was seated in an automobile with Dr. McMillan.

Had Widow's Correspondence.
Once more said they found McMillan poring over correspondence he had with Mrs. Appleby. A murder indictment against Dr. McMillan will be sought by the state, district attorney's officers said.

Dr. McMillan has persistently denied any knowledge concerning the death of Mrs. Appleby, who inherited a large estate upon the death of her husband in Chicago, in 1918. Only as her authorized business agent, he said, and he dictated a will found in Mrs. Appleby's effects giving him authority over her estate.

NEW COMMITTEES NAMED FOR 1928 BY CIVITAN CLUB

Announcement by Herbert Z. Hopkins, new president of the Civitan club of Atlanta, whose term of office began January 1, of committees to serve during 1928 featured the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the club Tuesday at the Atlanta Athletic club.

The address of Dr. Cullen B. Gosnell, of Emory university, was another high light of the program. Chairman of the various committees were announced by Mr. Hopkins as follows: Powers, public education and charity committee; A. G. Maxwell, finance; Guy Dobbs, public affairs; A. H. Monroe, grievance; T. I. Miller, auditing; H. R. Hanes, publicity; J. P. Lowe, constitution and by-laws; Harry M. Root, Girl Scout camp; Leslie Hubbard, music; Dr. L. Quillian, state organization and extension; R. K. Rambo, Civitan International program; and Clarence Pearson and J. N. Reisman, fellowship and sunshine, the former to serve for the first six months of 1928, and Mr. Reisman to conclude the year.

Mr. Pace, as chairman of the entertainment committee for January, was in charge of Tuesday's program.

GIRL AND TWO MEN INDICTED BY JURY FOR AUTO THEFTS

Robt. Wilson and two companions, Herman Hambrick and Roger Hicks, were indicted Tuesday by the Fulton county grand jury on four charges of larceny of automobiles. Bonds were fixed at $2,000 each.

The trio were arrested recently in Macon. They are charged with stealing automobiles belonging to Dr. J. L. Hanley, of 67 Cain street; the Drive-It-Yourself company; T. C. Laird, Jr., 151 Moreland avenue, S. E., and Pat H. Akin, 520 Cameron street, S. E.

The grand jury also indicted J. C. Williams, J. M. Young and J. B. Whitfield on a charge of burglary in connection with their alleged robbery of the home of W. B. Carlton, of 817 Washington street, on October 16, where $86 in cash was stolen.

They also were indicted on a charge of attempted burglary on December 31 when they were arrested while trying to enter the home of S. E. McDaniel, at 761 North Boulevard.

Mexico City, January 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Lyman F. Barber, wife of an American mining man held by bandits ever since he was kidnapped for ransom on December 17, has received a letter from her husband written December 30 in the mountains near the town of Tenancingo, in the state of Mexico.

Prince 'Eddie' Escapes Injury In 22nd Fall

Melton Mowbray, England, January 3.—(United News.)—The Prince of Wales took the twenty-second fall of his riding career today while following the Cottesmore hounds. He was not injured, and remounted his horse to rejoin the hunt.

It had been thought that the hunting season would be abruptly ended because of the outbreak of hoof and mouth disease among animals, but no new case had been reported in several days. The heir to the British throne was pitched headlong into a deep snow-drift when his mount stumbled over a fence. The prince retained the reins, however, preventing the horse from bolting.

Woman Sues Actor.
Los Angeles, January 3.—(AP)—Arthur Guy Empey, author, scenario writer and former Canadian soldier, was sued here today for $29,990 by Florence Evelyn Martin Rice, who declared she sought the return of the amount loaned to Empey.

The financial condition of the state as the new year begins is unusually sound, according to Governor L. G. Hardman, who pointed out Tuesday some economies and improvements for the rest of the year.

"Liquidation, upkeep and expansion"—these three fiscal items, the governor declared, will be achieved this year in the order named if present plans come to fruition. "First, we want to know just how the state government stands, financially," he said. "Then we must be sure that present state agencies are amply provided for. Then, and only then, we can begin to expand facilities at the capital and among state institutions."

The governor did not divulge details as to how he hoped to effect a closer check upon the state's finances, but hinted that developments along this line might be expected soon. He made it plain that a "business-like" administration of affairs would be sought. This, he said, the state's servants are obligated to furnish, in order to be frank and fair with the people who pay the taxes, and thereby claim their confidence.

Projected Improvements.
Showing plans drawn by architects, the governor explained projected landscaping and other improvements for the capital grounds and pointed out the imperative need of a new building for departmental offices. He also showed a drawing of projected improvements at the governor's mansion, and stated that changes were being planned to effect permanent improvement of the state's property. Drawings will also be made, he said, of the educational institutions of the state, these to be kept on display in the capitol for the benefit of legislators and state officers.

Dr. Hardman expressed satisfaction over the recent full payment of 1927 salaries to school teachers over the state, a new departure in state finance, it was said. Full payment of pensions and appropriations, and material reduction in the state's indebtedness were also pointed out. The governor stated that whereas he came into office with a deficit of $842,000 hanging over the state, he believed that Georgia would finish the year 1928 "out of debt."

Illness Stops Flight.
Curtiss Field, N. Y., January 3.—(United News.)—H. N. January 3.—Acosta, the Byrd trans-Atlantic flier, tonight again forced postponement of his attempt to break the world's record for sustained flight.

RESERVE OFFICERS MEET IN TACTICS SCHOOL TONIGHT

In continuation of meetings begun two months ago, organized reserve and national guard officers in and about Atlanta will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight, the line section in the Chamber of Commerce building and the staff section at the Academy of Medicine, 38 Prescott street. The meetings have been called to pursue a course in the local Army School of Applied Tactics and Troop Leading.

Captain H. W. Robinson, on duty with the H. O. T. C. unit at Georgia Tech, will have charge of the line section meeting, while Major H. R. W. Herwig, of the fourth corps area headquarters, will preside at the staff assembly.

AUTOPSY SHOWS ACTRESS DIED OF NATURAL CAUSES

New York, January 3.—(AP)—An autopsy today on the body of Emily Stevens, popular stage star, indicated that she died of natural causes. Medical Examiner Morris said, but he ordered vital organs sent to the city toxicologist for chemical analysis.

The examination, he said, did not bear out a belief that Miss Stevens had died of an overdose of a sedative. At noon Sunday the actress, a cousin of Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske, was found ill in her apartment here by a servant, but before a physician could be summoned she lapsed into a coma. She died yesterday.

PROMISES TO 'TOSS POLITICAL FOES' AROUND

Newburyport, Mass., January 3.—(United News.)—Boss' Gillis, red-headed ex-gob and gangster, was inaugurated as Newburyport's mayor tonight.

With flashing eye and thundering voice that boomed for political opponents, the new mayor, who was christened "Andrew J.," promised retribution for the injuries he said he suffered at the hands of former Mayor Oscar H. Nelson and his administration.

"They tossed me around," shouted Boss, brandishing a belligerent fist. "Now it's my turn to toss them around."

He referred to his battle with the last administration for permit to erect a gas station. Boss had requested license to build a pretentious filling station on a busy intersection of the Newburyport turnpike, main artery to Maine and New Hampshire.

Launching into his prepared oration, Boss promised "a square deal to all."

"I owe my election to no special interest," he said. "I have no political debts of any kind."

He won the affection of school teachers by promising "substantial increases in salary." Branding the health department "a joke," he said he would demand its resignation.

The liquor laws will be enforced in Boss's hailstorm. "I've been a hard

G. O. P. DRY STAND SOUGHT BY LEAGUE

New York, January 3.—(AP)—Arthur J. Davis, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, today called for a "square deal" from the legislature, for a frank discussion of the party's stand on a new state enforcement bill.

The newspapers say that the republican party is going to try to prevent the new introduction of a state prohibition enforcement bill. At the same time, the league is in no way official.

"This introduction has not come to us in the way of a surprise," he said. "It is an open letter to Mr. Morris."

"A good purpose may, however, be served by a frank discussion of the matter and perhaps all the possible attendant confusion may be avoided."

"The Anti-Saloon league will ask for nothing that the constitution does not demand. If the constitution prohibits the sale of liquor, the league will support it. If the constitution permits the sale of liquor, the league will support it."

OFFICIAL VATICAN PAPER HITS DRY ENFORCEMENT.

Rome, January 3.—(AP)—Osservatore Romano, official Vatican organ, today publishes on its first page an exposition of conditions in the United States under prohibition.

The article quotes American newspaper stories of dry raids, destruction of property, increase of alcoholism, kidnapping, and also the charges of prohibitionists that the dry law has reduced drinking. Among news items mentioned are those of the destruction of $50,000 worth of furnishings at the night club Chez Helen Morgan in New York and a recent statement of Representative F. H. LaGuardia, of New York, that a liquor syndicate controls sales in the American metropolis.

The paper also quotes Dr. Charles A. L. Reed, of the University of Cincinnati, former president of the American Medical association, giving details of the prohibition enforcement as 65,000, several thousand more than the American deaths in the world war.

The article concludes: "And so the figures which should intensify prohibition will end by destroying it."

The celebration was arranged by J. E. Varadine, member of the republican state committee for this county.

ASSAULT ON TWO

Wrightsville, Ga., January 3.—(AP)—Henry Dixon, employee of a sawmill here, was ordered held without bond in the Johnson county jail, after a coroner's jury held inquest here in connection with the death of Alston Haines, a local barber, whose body was found Sunday morning lying in the Dublin-Wrightsville highway a short distance from here.

Will Haines, a brother of the dead man, was found in an unconscious condition beside the body of his brother and now is in a hospital at Sandersville, with little chance of recovery from his recovery at the inquest.

Dixon, in a rambling statement, told of his attack on the two men. He told the jury that the two men first attempted an assault on him and that he wielded a heavy hickory cudgel which he found in the back of his car, in defense of his own life.

The two men were found in the road by passersby. Alston Haines was dead and his brother, Will, was unconscious. When officers went to Dixon's house to arrest him, the man was in bed.

A pocketbook alleged to have belonged to Will Haines is said to have been found on him when he was searched and several of the bills in it were said to have been smeared with blood.

The Haines brothers opened a barber shop here about four months ago. Will Haines, who was the oldest of the two, was married and has a family. Several children survive Alston Haines.

CONGRESS TO BEGIN WORK AGAIN TODAY

Washington, January 3.—(AP)—With the Christmas vacation over and the "happy new year" wished to the folks back home, congress will get down tomorrow to a grind which probably will continue almost to the end of the republican convention in June.

The house, which before the holiday recess kept to its legislative duties with the faithfulness of a Rhodes scholar at his studies, will start off a session on an appropriation bill, the second of the session and the first of the regular annual batch of supply measures for the governmental departments.

In the senate, the first order of business will be the administering of the oath to Bronson M. Cutting, a republican appointed to the vacancy caused by the recent death of Senator Andrew A. Jones, a democrat, of New Mexico.

COLD BRINGS DEATH TO NUMEROUS HOGS IN HANCOCK COUNTY

Sparta, Ga., January 3.—(Special.)—The cold wave of the week spells death to hundreds of hogs in Hancock county. Although Monday and Tuesday were too cold for out-door hog killing, it is expected that later in the week, when the promised slight rise in temperature comes, nearly all farmers in the county will be busy at the killing.

More hogs are now raised in this county than ever before, as the local county agent has stressed this feature and has organized many pig clubs. A large portion of Hancock county's meat supply for 1928 will be killed within the county.

THE AIR WAVES

After a week of rough sailing through the ether we finally enjoyed a full evening of excellent radio reception Tuesday, during which time we heard, in addition to Enrico Leide's program and the everyday hour from WSB, such stations as KDKA, at Pittsburgh; WJAX, at Jacksonville; WBBM, the Stewart-Warner air theatre at Chicago, and a number of others which failed to come through during the week.

It was always our impression that clear, cold weather brought good radio reception but we were apparently wrong in this assumption for there was more static and other electrical interference present Sunday and Monday than we have experienced in some time when we thought weather conditions were conducive to that sort of thing.

Notwithstanding the interference that has been rife, program offerings for the week have been about the most wonderful that could be arranged, and the one consideration which comes to us without any investment other than the price of a radio receiver.

While the Dial Twister is most fortunate in possessing a Stromberg-Carlson A-C operated radio set, he is no better off, relatively speaking, than the fan with any other kind of radio when it comes to amplifying static for all sets will do it—even the most enthusiastic dealer will admit, and practically every one does.

However, practically any make of radio will bring in the local station with a fair degree of volume and tone quality so that is another reason why the Dial Twister is not much more satisfactorily situated than any other fan. It is a lot of satisfaction though, to be able to reach out into the distance and pluck yourself a few stray waves and bring it in with clarity, tone quality and volume.

We had looked forward to hearing Joe Cole, the one-man vaudeville show, but enjoyed Nat Shilkret and his orchestra more, so that it what we think of the latest Eveready hour. Joe Cole's couple of stories last night proved his memory is faultless—we remembered them just as he told them—which also shows that because of their extreme age, many of us must have been hearing with him or he is guilty of robbing the old files of Life and Judge.

Now the Eveready hour has come and gone and we are looking forward to that tremendous broadcast schedule for Wednesday night—the Dial Twister's—$800,000 worth of entertainment in one form and another which is considerably intriguing to the Dial Twister, if you know what we mean.

Sixty thousand dollars is a big heap of money to put out for an hour's worth of course we realize that $100,000 isn't a big heap of money and that the Dial Twister's hour is not a big heap of money, but it is a big heap of money for the far-flungness of the country together so that we all may have the pleasure of hearing such masters as Fred Stone, Al Johnson, Paul Whiteman, Nat Shilkret and his orchestra, and we have a hunch that while the sixty thousand is going out in program its real purpose will be served in arousing the listener's desire to see and ride in the new Dodge product—the Victory Six.

Nobody Loves a Skinny Woman

Gain Pounds of Weight in 3 Weeks with New YEAST and IRON—or pay nothing

Folk are amazed at Ironized Yeast. They say 5 to 15 pounds are gained in 3 weeks! Skinny limbs covered with rounded graceful flesh! Ugly hollows in shoulders filled up! Eyes sparkling with health. They ask—how does Ironized Yeast work so quick?

How Yeast and Iron Builds Weight

Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one—weight-building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt, and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially cultured yeast, concentrated to give the utmost in flesh-producing value.

This Yeast is treated with pure, vegetable iron the same as in spinach, lettuce and celery. In this form iron is easily assimilated by the body, making rich, red blood and toning up nerves and muscles.

Only when Yeast is Ironized in this way is it more effective—for iron is needed to bring out the best results from the strengthening value of Yeast. By this special formula Ironized Yeast gives you results in half the time required by Yeast or iron taken separately. If you are underweight, nervous or tired, you need Ironized Yeast. Start it today. Absolutely harmless. 60 nice, pleasant tasting tablets to a handy bottle. They do not upset the stomach nor cause gas or bloating.

Try It On "Money-Back" Offer

Go today to any drug store and get a full size treatment of Ironized Yeast. If not delighted with the quick results, get your money back. Unconvenient to buy from the druggist, send $1.00 to the IRONIZED YEAST CO., Atlanta, Ga., Desk 26-L.

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST is being demonstrated by the fact that it cures cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion, and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having weight increased to normal. © 1927—J. WOMEN APPROACHING MIDDLE AGE

Pass Through This Trying Period in Good Condition by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MRS. HARVEY TUCKER
R. R. 9, SHELBYSVILLE, IND.

"Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be"

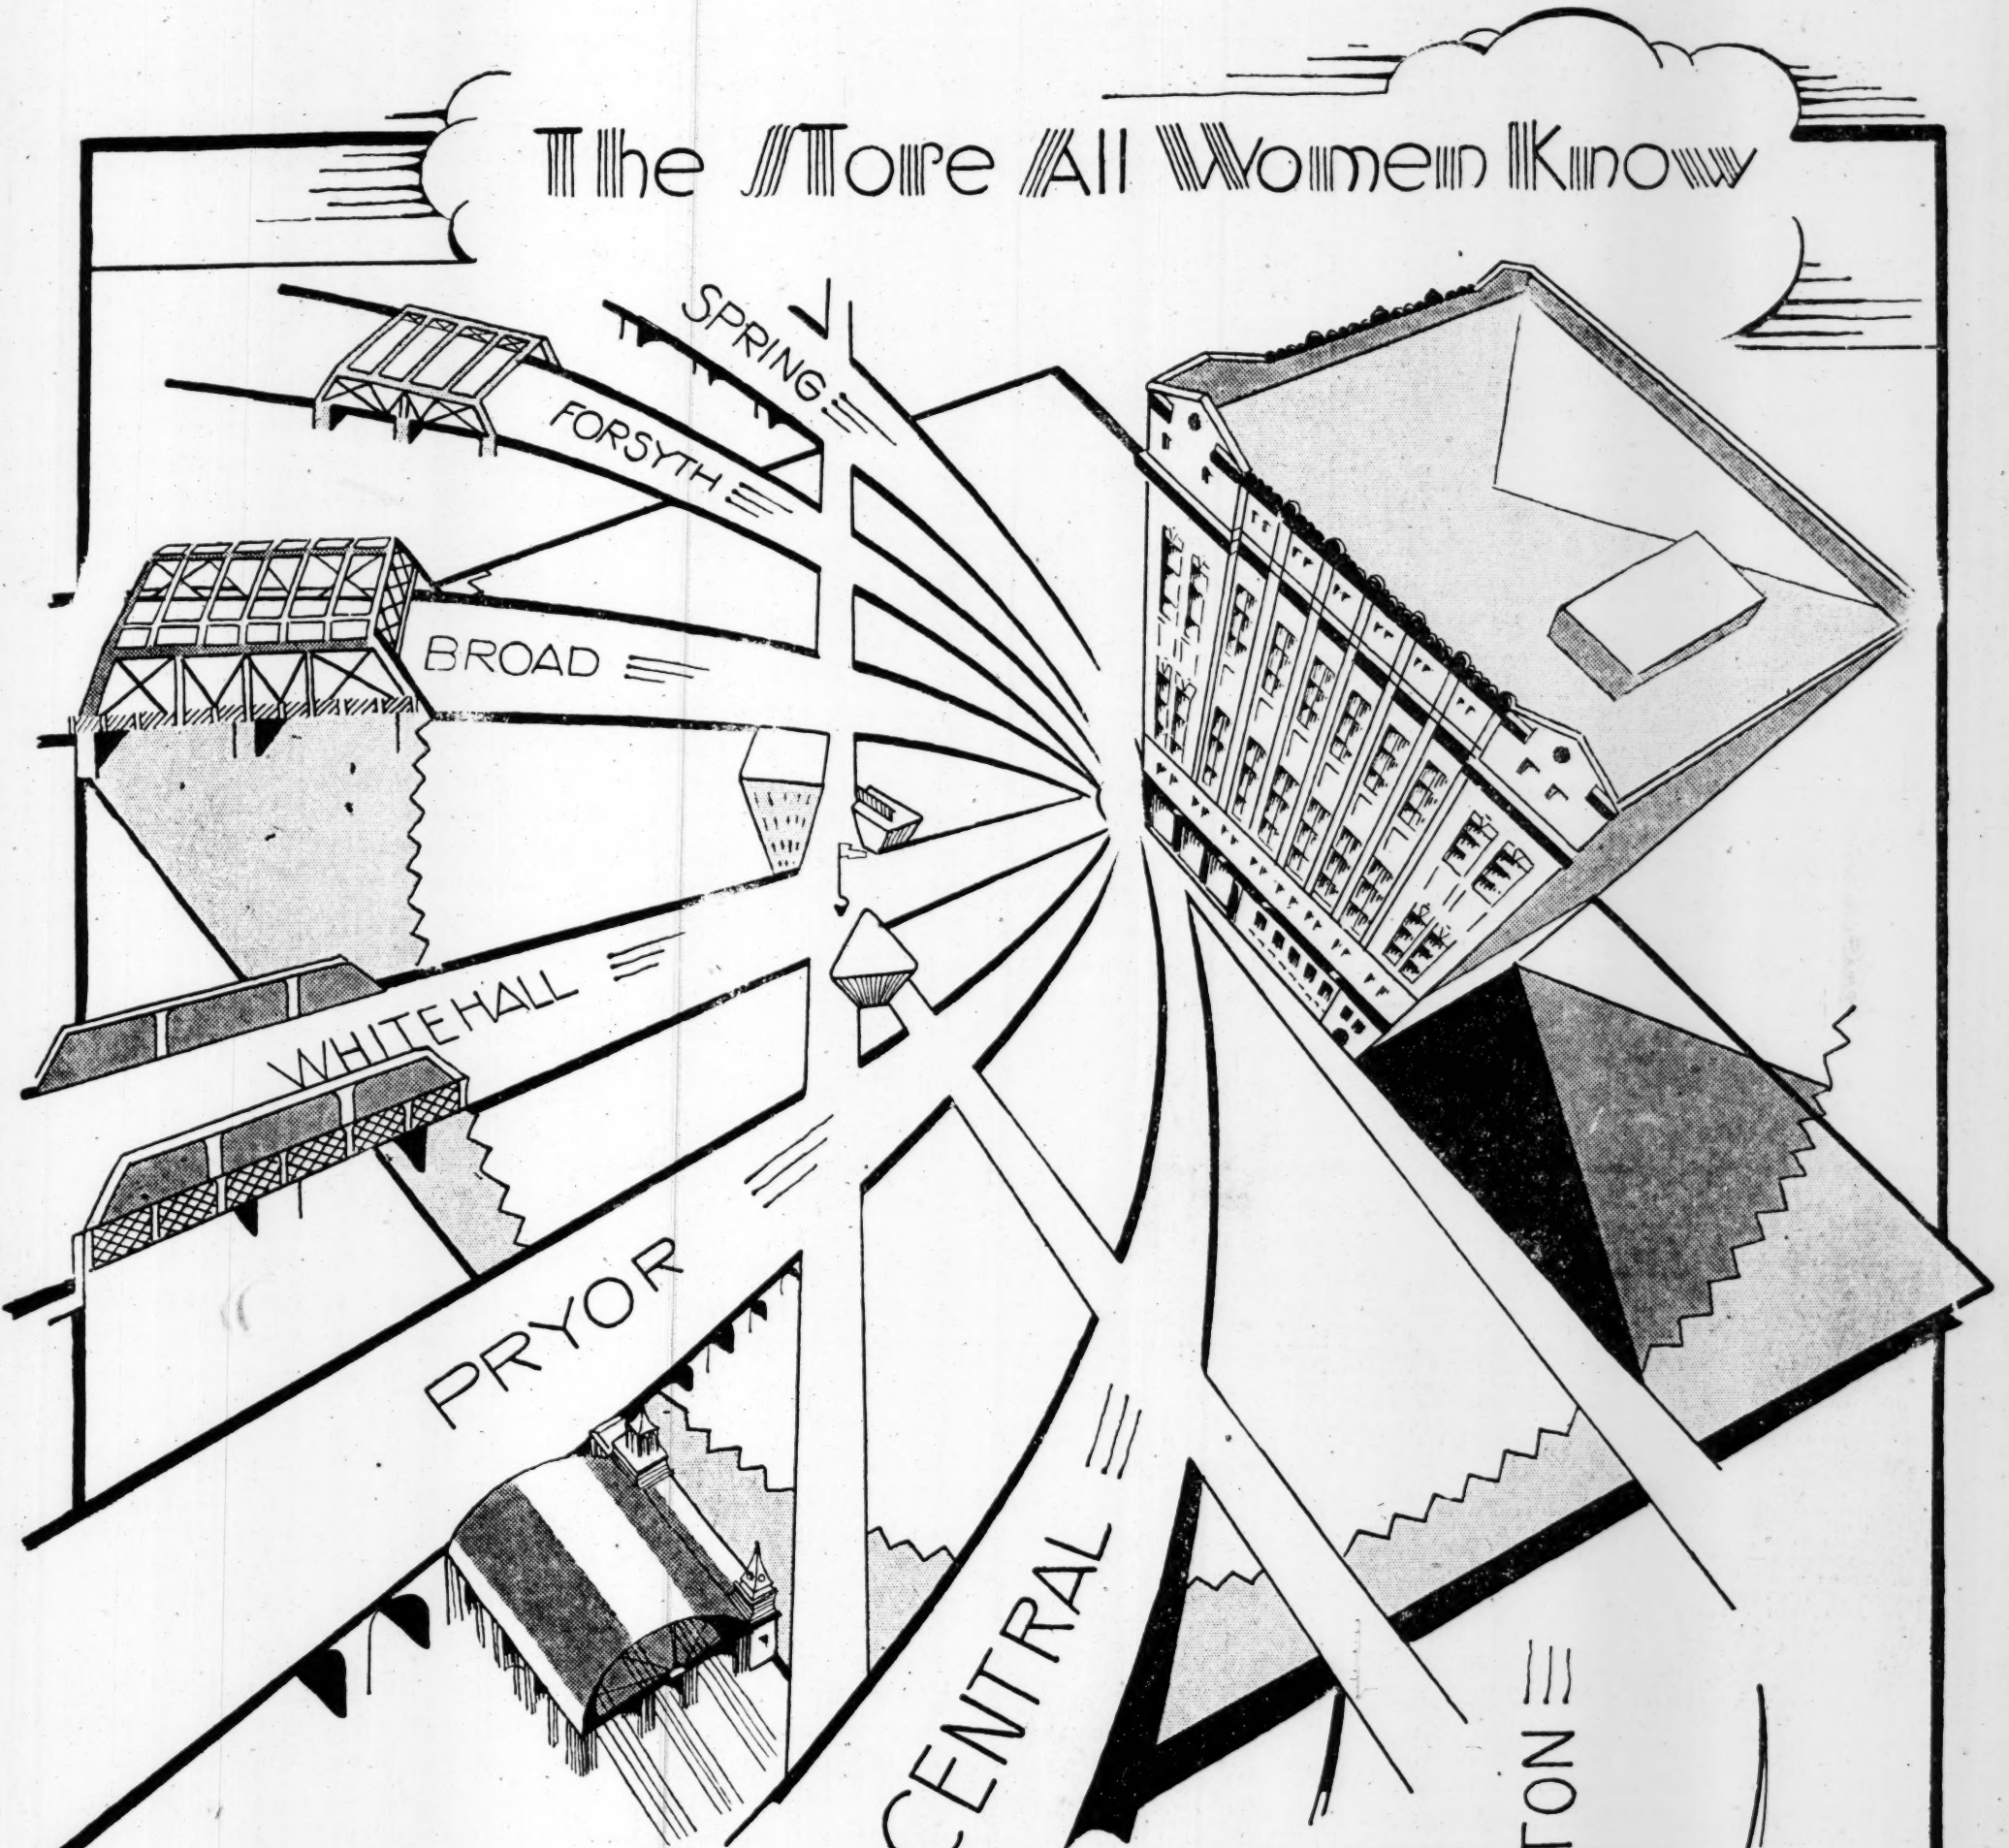

With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women of middle age say they owe their vigor and health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Those who have learned through their own experience the merit of this dependable medicine are enthusiastic in recommending it to their friends and neighbors.

"I had been in bad condition for three months. I could not do my work. One day I read what your medicine had done and just had a feeling that it would help me, so I sent and got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had only taken half a bottle when I got up and started to do my work. It gave me an appetite, and helped me wonderfully. I can not praise this medicine highly enough. I surely will advise all women and girls to take it, and they don't have to use rouge to look healthy. My two daughters are taking it now and one is also using the Sanative Wash. I am willing to have you use this testimonial and I will answer letters from women asking about the medicine."—MRS. HARVEY TUCKER, R. R. 9, Shelbyville, Indiana.

"I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the little books you give away and began to take the medicine. After the first few bottles I began to feel better and could eat better and had fewer headaches. I feel like a different person. At anytime that I don't feel good I take the Vegetable Compound again, as I always keep a bottle on hand. You may use this letter for every word is true. I will answer any letters sent to me."—MRS. JESSIE BOLLERMAN, 611-11th St., Union City, N. J.

ALL VIADUCTS LEAD To The NEW J.P. ALLEN'S

Peachtree at Can.

THE legend is that wherever Mac Gregor sits is the head of the table. By that token, wherever Allen's stands is the pulse of Fashion and the heart of Shopping.

The sketch is graphic. It shows that this new move of Allen's is not so radical, after all. North Side, South Side—mere terms. The viaducts make distance a delusion and space an abstraction.

Spring Street, Forsyth, Broad, Whitehall, Pryor and Central (under construction) and Washington Viaducts pour, as it were, right into Peachtree and Cain, giving swift thoroughfares to a free, uncongested and superior retail location, rendering it an immediately accessible shopping spot, especially from the South Side.

Parking room is ample—space for a thousand cars in the immediate vicinity of the new Allen store, at economical rates.

The two modern monsters are banished. Au revoir to traffic tie-ups and good-bye to tedious cruising to find a snug harbor for your motor. Shopping under such conditions is a new and refreshing delight for Atlanta.

THE GUMPS—THE STAG AT BAY

The Woman in the Case
BY LOUIS TRACY

SYNOPSIS.
John Arden, returning to his rooms at the Palace Hotel, London, in the early hours of the morning, breaks his key in the lock and is given a room in a luxurious suite by the night watchman who assures him that the rooms are unoccupied. He is about to retire when two women enter the apartment. One is addressed as Emma and the other as Mrs. Sinclair. Arden, hiding, hears them speak of the sudden death of Lord Farndale. Without being observed he lets himself out of the apartment. The next morning he reads of the mysterious death of the peer. A little later he sees Emma on the street and is not far from her when she is knocked down by a motorcyclist. Her dress is torn and he offers her his raincoat. She accepts it and he offers to get her a taxi, telling her that they live in the same hotel. Later Arden learns that the police know the identity of the two women who visited Lord Farndale but cannot locate them. They watch the railway terminals. Arden sees Emma at one of the stations and behind Mrs. Sinclair's back takes her away with him to avoid arrest. Mrs. Sinclair, in fear of being detained as a material witness was about to cross over to Paris with Emma. Arden takes the girl to the rooms of his friend, Andy Burke, who turns the apartment and his housekeeper over to her. Burke is invited to share Jimmie Davidson's rooms for the night. Before leaving Andy's apartment the three friends and Detective Fumaux of Scotland Yard, who has joined them, hold a conference in Emma's behalf.

On leaving Fumaux suggests to Arden that he call on Mrs. Sinclair, who is back at the Park Palace hotel, before going to bed, but he learns nothing from her, beyond catching a glimpse of Juan de Braganza, who claims, in spite of the girl's denial, to be Emma's husband. At the coroner's inquest into the death of Lord Farndale, Mrs. Sinclair is represented by a lawyer named Frauncelot. On the advice of Fumaux Emma goes back to Mrs. Sinclair. Arden meets Emma in the park and tells her he loves her. Chief Winter of Scotland Yard tells Arden that the Braganza is going to Paris and suggests that he go over and shadow him.

INSTALLMENT XXXIX.
PARIS.

Arden named Maurice on the spur of the moment, because it happened to be that from which De Braganza's cabman had been forwarded. Then, realizing that he would have to eat somewhere, he added unthinkingly: "Are you free tonight? Why not dine with me there at 8 o'clock?"

The invitation was unpremeditated, and Arden would have recalled it, if possible, almost as soon as the words left his lips. But convention has its own laws, and they are not to be broken lightly. So the two parted with a handshake, and Arden reflected ruefully that he would be hard put to it to frame an excuse if he were compelled to remain in some other part of Paris at the appointed hour. Moreover, he had never actually ascertained from Emma the name of the hotel in which she stayed with Mrs. Sinclair. De Braganza had lived there, too, and he would now almost certainly go back to it, so it might be the Maurice.

He looked around for a taxi, having declined the use of the car provided by the company. He chose a driver with an intelligent face, and resolved to take him into his confidence to a certain extent.

"I have reason to believe that a man whom I do not wish to meet is coming here from London within half an hour," he said. "I want to find out where he is going, when I tell you to follow a certain car, keep it in sight."

"I'll do my best," was the dubious reply, "but a sparrow cannot catch a pigeon. Here's a better plan, m'sieu. When you know which car your bird is in give me a wink, and I'll pull alongside and ask the driver where he's going."

The taxi driver did admirably. It was the Maurice, m'sieu, he said when his fare hurried up.

Though Arden did not see De Braganza's car again he had at least chosen a competent and careful chauffeur. He thought it would be wise to retain him for the afternoon, at any rate, so a bargain was struck when the car drew up at the colonnade in the Rue de Rivoli. The trail held thus far. One of the most recent names in the hotel register was "Juan de Braganza" with a room number on the third floor. Arden asked for the same room, thus conveying the impression that he was acquainted with the apartment and liked it. The polite hotel clerk regretted that the said number was not available, but one exactly opposite was vacant.

It was impossible to decide as yet such close proximity to his quarry would have any strategical value. Indeed, it might be harmful, but out of such problems is born the fortune of war. In this instance, it governed the subsequent course of events in a quite phenomenal way, because Arden was hardly in his room before he heard the opposite door being unlocked. De Braganza came out, but turned back with a muttered imprecation—apparently he had forgotten something. Arden did not hesitate. Throwing a five franc note to an astonished porter who had just deposited monsieur's small bag on a stand, he raced to the ascensor. It was many floors higher, so Arden ran down stairs. The lift reached the ground floor a few seconds after him, and the Argentine emerged, heading for the exit, where Arden was stationed already. His taxi man was on the qui vive, but Arden signaled him not to come closer to the curb in front of the doorway.

A hall porter halted a passing taxi and De Braganza took it.

"Tious!" said Arden to his driver. "Don't lose that cab, and you earn a special pour boire of 50 francs!"

After some alarming crossings and turnings among the narrow streets which afflict that quarter of Paris once the main thoroughfares are departed from, De Braganza's vehicle entered the courtyard of a pretentious building in the Rue Bonaparte. It was quite obviously a case of mansion flats. Could it be possible that Letitia, Lady Doone, lived in one of them?

Arden went on a good 50 yards before he stopped. Even then, lest his movements might be observed from a window, he caused his man to pull over to the opposite pavement—that which adjoined the house De Braganza was visiting. He knew enough of the concierge system in vogue throughout the center of the city to realize that any immediate inquiry would not only meet with blank negation but cause active distrust, so he sent his cab completely out of sight round a neighboring corner, and himself walked past the gateway which had now become mysterious as a cavern in Eblis. Inside he saw De Braganza's taxi, so the assumption was that he had been admitted by the person, whomsoever it might be, he was calling on.

A quick decision was needed, and Arden's whole training had equipped him for that sort of thing. Back he went to his taxi.

"Station yourself where you please," he said, "but when the cab comes out again—I have no idea how long it may be detained—go after it and seize the first opportunity to see if the same man is inside. If he is, follow, and find out where he goes. Then return to the Maurice. Send for me. He is my card. If I am not in, wait. If we do not meet until 8 o'clock, I will hold of Captain Quinlan's, an aviator, who is due to dine with me there at that hour. Tell him exactly what has happened, and ask him to telephone 7,000 Victoria, London. He is to speak or leave a full message for Mr. Winter or Mr. Fumaux. See! I am writing here the number and the various names. Here are two hundred francs on account. I'll double the amount when we meet at the hotel."

The two spent a tireless interval of half an hour before De Braganza reappeared. Arden saw him, and so did the taxi driver, who indicated by a hand flourish that the chase had begun again. Then Arden made straight for the courtyard.

The attendant eyed him closely; it was amusing to see his blank expression when he tried to make out what the caller wanted, and failed. He motioned, rather severely, to a seat. The boy entered a lift and vanished. After a trying wait he came back, flung open the door, and said: "Monsieur attend, m'sieu."

Arden literally sighed with relief. Had Lady Doone refused to receive him his only resource was a letter, which she might not answer.

Arden was soon admitted to a hall, or cross corridor, decorated in the ornate Louis Quinze style, but with a correctness which was pleasing. He was taken at once to a drawing room, and here he might have admired another period of French furniture and pictures were not his astonished eyes held by a quite charming looking old lady seated near an open window.

An abundance of white hair framed an asetic face, still beautiful, with all the marks of good breeding and social importance. In repose it revealed the cynicism of age, but she was smiling now, and her expression enhanced the elegance of the costume of blue silk and cream lace which seemed to be peculiarly suited to her.

May, after opening 11 points down at 19.59, ultimately declined to 19.07 or 63 points under Saturday's close, and was trading at 19.08 when the session ended.

Liverpool was a little lower than due but first trades here showed losses of 7 to 11 points. The market continued to ease off during the morning on the belief that weevils would be destroyed. Near noon March traded down to 19.38 and in July to 19.22, 28 to 30 points under Saturday's close. October, the active new month, went as low as 18.40, 49 points down.

Around noon there was a 10 point rally on a report that 20,000 bales of the certificated stock in New York was earmarked for shipment this month, but during the afternoon there was a further weakening on the report of labor prediction. Near the end of the session prices marked a new low for the day with March at 19.05, July at 18.88 and October at 18.12. The close was within a point or two of the lows.

Exports were 22,585 bales.

There may have been some selling on reports that the trade demand expected immediately after the first of the year was not yet in evidence to any appreciable extent, but talk was mostly of the unusually cold weather reported in the belt, and possibility that emergence of boll weevil from hibernation next spring would be much less serious than previously anticipated.

Liverpool was relatively steady early, but eased later. Private cables attributed the early steadiness to continental buying and said there was an improving demand for cotton cloths from India in Manchester.

Exports for the day 23,585, making 3,988,000 so far this season. Port receipts 6,477. U. S. port stocks 2,524,149.

COTTON PRICES DROP 58 TO 76 POINTS.

New Orleans, January 3.—(P)—The cotton market started the new year with a drop in price of 58 to 76 points, a net decline of approximately $2.90 to $3.80 a bale.

The drop in prices was occasioned by the belief that the severe weather would destroy boll weevils in hibernation and to a prediction by the United

American Rolling Mills again attracted the attention of operators for the advance, and Banatilly was bid up 4 points. Other former favorites which moved toward higher ground included Farnest Products, General Bronze, Campbell Wyant and Cuneo Press, U. S. L. Battery, International Cigar Machinery and Alabama Great Southern all exceeded their 1927 peaks.

Public utilities derived strength from further evidences of continued prosperity in that industry. American Gas & Electric common and preferred Standard Power & Light, and American Light & Traction were in brisk demand and Electric Bond & Share advanced a point before reacting on realizing.

Petroleum issues generally moved forward, although American Petroleum steady pressure. Standard of Kentucky and Margay Oil gained about 3 points each, and Gulf Oil advanced a point, later losing all its gain.

Activity and strength of the several issues was attributed to announcement that the company's reorganization had been completed. Newmont Mining, selling ex-dividend, fell back nearly 5 points, but subsequently made up most of the loss. Deere & Co., the Caterpillar Celluloid issues, Lefcourt Realty preferred and McColl corporation also were heavy.

New York, January 3.—(AP)—The bond market today displayed little change from the quiet irregularity of the previous day.

Change in the market was more noticeable in the afternoon when the underlying firmness of the market was more apparent.

Investment buying, which was more noticeable in the afternoon, was more apparent.

Money conditions which made last year a notable season for investments.

A few industrial specialties held the spotlight as buyers' favorites, chief among them Dodge Brothers, which were taken in large amounts and sold at one time more than a point above Saturday's closing price.

Barndall, which carries stock warrants, was in rather brisk demand, but easing tendencies were noted elsewhere.

Andes Copper, which rose rapidly early last week, fell back more than a point on further profit-taking.

Expectations of an early decision by the interstate commerce commission on reorganization plans was responsible for continued strength in the stock market.

Some of the new high territory, however, was not held, and the market closed with a slight decline.

Changes in the foreign division were fractional and of a mixed order. Scandinavian and Australian issues, which have not been especially active in recent sessions, followed a firm trend and there was further quiet accumulation of some of the Latin American obligations.

Rather heavy offerings of third and fourth Liberty 4-1/2s and treasury 4s were absorbed with only slight resistance. Liberty 3-1/2s showed independent firmness.

New York, January 3.—(AP)—As wheat upturns in the value of wheat to day accompanied reports that selling pressure of southern hemisphere wheat had passed the maximum for this season, estimates were current that 50 per cent of the Argentine exportable wheat surplus has already been sold. Profit-taking, however, led to a reaction from the day's top prices here.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 5-8c to 7-8c net higher. Corn finished 5-8c to 7-8c net, unchanged to 1-2c to 1-2c lower, and provisions unchanged to 1-2c decline.

Indications of good export demand for wheat from North America were much in evidence today, especially wheat in position for prompt shipment. About 600,000 bushels of North American wheat was taken to the coast by ship, and it was stated that nearly all available wheat for such use had been advanced to a "lowest basis."

Another strengthening factor was decided falling off in world shipments, together with announcement of 2,044,000 bushels of wheat from the United States, a favorable supply. Besides, further unfavorable reports were received about lack of snow protection for domestic winter wheat.

Word that Argentine wheat shippers were asking decidedly higher prices today tended further to stimulate demand. The wheat market here was trans-Atlantic interests and houses with connections northwest.

Reports of a steadily increasing effect that European consumers had become more inclined than of late to follow market upturns, especially so in the case of Britain, had been unsuccessfully awaiting a break in world prices owing to favorable harvest news from Argentina.

In the corn market, $2,000,000 bushels enlargement of the visible stock proved to be more than a counter-balance for excellent cash demand.

Cash corn was 1-2c to 2-3c higher, compared with May, and offerings from the country were extremely small. Outlets closed.

Commodity futures selling eased down the provision market.

ROBBERY MOTIVE SEEN IN WEINTRAUB SLAYING

Max Weintraub, 51-year-old grocer, of 1120 Sims street, S. W., was fatally stabbed early Monday night in his store as he attempted to defend himself against robbers, according to witnesses at an inquest held Tuesday afternoon at the chapel of Sam H. Greenberg & Co. The verdict of the coroner's jury read, "Death from stab wounds, inflicted by a person or persons unknown." Coroner Paul Donohoe conducted the inquest.

It was brought out at the inquest that Weintraub was known as a fighter and that on several occasions he had thwarted robbery attempts. He had a gun in a bedroom adjoining the store and another in his pocket at the time of the attempted holding, but was powerless to use his weapon, it was stated.

A flesh wound on the side of Weintraub's neck was found, in addition to the stab on his chest which penetrated the heart and caused almost instant death. The flesh wound was caused by a bullet, it was stated, as it was found that three shots had been fired into the rear wall of the store.

The groceryman was found dead shortly after 7 o'clock Monday night with his chest cut open and a long butcher knife by his side. A negro woman customer, the first to enter the store after the murder, summoned police.

Detectives, at doubt as to the motive for the crime, established Tuesday morning, after an investigation, that robbery was the motive, though his pocketbook and money in the cash register were not taken.

Detectives are continuing their investigation in an effort to find some trace of the assailant and efforts will be made to secure finger prints to-day.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, pending arrival of his wife and daughter, who are visiting relatives in New York.

ANNEXATION OF LAND IN EAST LAKE HELD UP

Probably that a large tract of land outside the city of East Lake and which was voted into Atlanta at the last meeting of the general assembly can not be annexed, loomed Tuesday when Mayor I. N. Ragsdale held up an ordinance providing for annexation pending a conference with City Attorney James L. Mayson.

The land lies in landlots 142, 143, 146, 147, 174, 175, 176 and 178 of the fifth district of DeKalb county; 55 and 57 of the seventh district and 24, 25 and 89 of the fourteenth district of the same county.

Mayor Ragsdale stated he had been advised that the enabling act providing for annexation was defective, and that if the city annexed the property and made improvements, assessing the same, the city would be unable to collect the bills rendered.

A portion of the land lies just outside the city on Platsboro avenue and near the East Lake section. Enabling acts for annexation of East Lake were regular and East Lake is a part of the city, the mayor having approved all other papers passed Monday by council with the exception of the special annexation ordinance and another ordinance denouncing a stretch of brick sidewalks on Cain street.

The mayor wished time to investigate the condition of the sidewalks in question, he said.
